

State	Ban on use?	Ban on sale?	Final Disposition?	Court Challenge?
Alabama	Yes	No	No	No
Arizona	Yes	Yes	No	No
Arkansas	Only for "aborted live fetus"	Yes	Yes	No
California	Only for "aborted live fetus"	Yes, only for the purpose of "reproductive cloning or stem cell research"	No	No
Colorado	No	Yes	No	No
Connecticut	No	Yes, only for payment for embryos, embryonic stem cells unfertilized eggs or sperm donated following IVF treatment	No	No
Florida	Only for "aborted live fetus"	No	No	No
Georgia	No	Yes	Yes	No
Idaho	Yes	Yes	No	No
Illinois	Yes	Yes	No	No

Indiana	Yes	Yes	Yes	Suit in federal court brought by Planned Parenthood, no decision has been made, but federal court judge said "The state's asserted interest in treating fetal remains with the dignity of human remains is not legitimate given that the law does not recognize a fetus as a person" There is a separate suit from Indiana University - based on "academic freedom" arguments, they say law is "vague and burdensome." No decision yet.
Iowa	No	Yes, only for the transfer or receipt of the product of human reproductive cloning	No	No
Kansas	No	Yes	No	No
Kentucky	Only for "live or viable child"	Yes	No	No
Louisiana	No	Yes	Yes	There are two LA bills related to fetal tissue - one on banning its sale, the other on final disposition. The one that is being challenged in court has to do with the sale, and it is part of a lawsuit by the Center for Reproductive Rights that is challenging 7 pro-life laws

Maine	No	Yes	No	No
Massachusetts	Only for "embryo/live fetus"	Yes, prohibits sale of neonate, embryo or fetus for illegal purposes; prohibits sale of embryos, gametes or cadaveric tissue for research	No	No
Michigan	Only for "live embryo/fetus"	No	No	No
Minnesota	Yes	Yes, except MN permits the sale/purchase of cell culture lines from nonliving human conceptus	Yes	No
Missouri	Only for a "fetus alive pre-abortion"	Yes	No	No
Nebraska	Only for "aborted live fetus"	Yes	No	No
Nevada	No	Yes	No	No
New Hampshire	No	Yes	No	No
New Jersey	No	Yes	No	No
New Mexico	Yes, only for research on a fetus/embryo born or extracted alive, only applies to in vitro fertilized embryos post-implantation	Yes, prohibits abortion for the purpose of selling the fetus to researchers	No	No

North Carolina	No	Yes	Yes	No
North Dakota	Yes	Yes	No	No
Ohio	Yes	Yes	No	No
Oklahoma	Yes	Yes	No	No
Pennsylvania	Only for a "live embryo or fetus"	Yes	No	No
Rhode Island	No	Yes	No	No
South Dakota	Yes	Yes, only for the sale of embryos	No	No
Tennessee	No	Yes	No	No
Texas	No	Yes	Yes	The concern in their suit is about the law may appear "to impermissibly overrule a state law allowing cremated ashes to be scattered over any private property, with the owner's consent." TX now has a bill to fix this issue.
Utah	Yes, only for research on a live fetus, fertilized embryo post-implantation	Yes	No	No
Virginia	No	Yes, only for the shipping or receiving of the product of human cloning for commerce	No	No
Wyoming	Yes	Yes	No	No